2- COMPOSITION OF ARMIES

3- SETUP

Without looking, randomly select 3 Bonus Tactics markers and place them on the Battlefield.

Remove the following cards from the English deck:
Don't stop, Weak point, Repair, Ram, Hit and run, It bounced right off it, and all the Airstrike and Artillery cards.

Remove the following cards from the German deck:
Bogged down, Weak point, Repair, Ram ans all the Airstrike and Artillery cards.

Mad Jack is deployed as shown in possession of the briefcase. The rest of the squad is deployed in his deployment zone (do not forget the Infiltrated recruitment option which permit to deploy to 6 spaces).

The units of the German player are not placed on the board. The units of the Panzerlehr enter onto the board during the first round by road (blue arrow).

The German player has the initiative.
Thus he deploys first
Place the corresponding marker on space 1 of the turn counter.

Each player draws 4 cards.

4- PLAYING THE GAME

The game lasts 5 turns.
The English player has to get a unit with the briefcase off the battlefield from his deployment zone.

As long as no British unit is spotted (shot or within Clear LoS), the units of the Panzerlehr cannot leave their vehicles, cannot fight and have to move only on the road for at least 3 spaces a turn.

From the end of turn 2 onward, if a British unit has been spotted (shot or within Clear LoS) the SS unit can begin arrive from the blue arrow starting the following turn.

At the end of the Supply Phase, the holder of the briefcase can give it to an adjacent unit. If the holder is destroyed, he drops the briefcase on an adjacent interspace of his choice. To pick it up, a unit has to stop on an adjacent space to that interspace.
The vehicles can pick up a Tactical bonus, but not the briefcase.

5- END OF GAME AND VICTORY

English victory: by the end of turn 4, a British unit holding the briefcase must have left the battlefield by an edge space in its deployment zone. Otherwise it is a German victory.
