29 LET'S GO !

Grandcamp, June 8th 1944. Two days after D-day, the 352nd Infantry division, heavily depleted, must fall back, facing the American push on Omaha beach. The little harbour of Grandcamp, vital to allied logistics, is in a state of defence against elements of the 5th rangers and the 29th, coming from the Pointe du Hoc. The surrounding swamps make the Germans job easier, with an additional stream, east, protecting the village. A group of Rangers is pushed back at midday. A more powerful attack is on the way.

EPILOGUE :

Après un bombardement naval d'une heure, les compagnies K et L du 116th Infantry Regiment montent à l'assaut appuyées par des Shermans. Ces derniers franchissent le pont resté intact, sur le ruisseau mais l'un d'entre eux saute sur une mine. Les GI's sont pris à partie par les mitrailleuses et les canons allemands et répliquent. L'attaque américaine semblent piétiner à la lisière du village. Le Sgt Peregory s'infiltre alors dans les positions ennemies et neutralise à lui seul un nid de mitrailleuse à coup de grenades et de Garand. Il pousse devant lui ses prisonniers, met hors de combat une autre mitrailleuse et capture d'autres Allemands. Cette action exceptionnelle permet au gros du bataillon de nettoyer Grandcamp. Peregory est le seul soldat du 116th et l'un des deux de la 29th à avoir reçu la Congressionnal Medal of Honor. Il ne le sut jamais car il fut tué au combat 6 jours plus tard.
